

Senate Passes Hikes

Increases In Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today a massive Social Security bill carrying 15 to 59 per cent increases for present beneficiaries and larger boosts for persons retiring in the future.

The roll-call vote was 78 to 6. The Dissenters were Sens. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah; Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.; Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.; John Stennis, D-Miss.; Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.; and John J. Williams, R-Del.

The measure, which would make the biggest cash benefit and payroll tax increases in the 32-year-old history of the Social Security system, was sent to conference with the House.

The conference is expected to be a tough one, with major differences to be resolved over the cash benefit and tax provisions and over new restrictions on public welfare programs.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., called the final Senate product a landmark bill in the history of Social Security.

One of its most important results, he said, will be to move out of poverty more than two million elderly people. This would be accomplished chiefly through a new $70-a-month minimum payment coupled with higher checks for all persons now getting slightly more than the present $44 minimum.

The benefit and tax levels in the Senate bill are largely those recommended by the administration.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee resisted those in the seven months the bill was before his panel earlier this year. He is expected at least to insist on a compromise in the conference.

In addition, Mills and his committee wrote into the measure tight new welfare restrictions designed to cut down on the soaring growth of the aid to family with dependent children program.

The Senate softened these considerably. This also is expected to be a sticky point in the conference.

The Senate stayed in session late Tuesday, its longest meeting of the year, to complete work on all amendments to the measure.

Long estimated Tuesday, after the Senate completed action on 42 amendments, that the new benefit package would total about $7 billion in the first full year of operation.

That was $12.2 billion more in benefits than the Senate Finance Committee proposed after two months of work on the bill.

The biggest increase in the bill's cost Tuesday came with the 50-23 adoption of an amendment by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., to raise to $2,400 the amount a retired person can earn in a year and not lose any Social Security benefits. The

Chamber Discussion On Christmas Activity

Plans for the Christmas activities were discussed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday afternoon at Farm and Home building.

Neil Chapman, Retail Merchants Division director, stated that the larger department stores downtown will start staying open nights on Nov. 27, and the majority of the smaller stores plan to start their night openings on Dec. 4. Others will not start until Dec. 11 or Dec. 18.

Chapman also said that the Christmas decorations in the downtown area had been arranged for and are expected to be put up soon.

Mrs. Vivian Warren commented that the Christmas parade, which will be held at 10 a.m. Dec. 2, is shaping up well as far as entries are concerned, except for bands. This, however, will be taken care of, it is believed, when the bands are again contacted.

The Santa Claus house, in front of the courthouse, is being readied by volunteer workmen.

Wreath at JFK Grave

Sgt. Major Francis J. Ruddy (wearing beret), who commanded the Special Forces detachment that marched as an honor guard at President Kennedy's funeral four years ago and later was first to place his green beret on the grave as a mark of respect, returned to the grave Wednesday to place a wreath in the form of a floral beret at the grave. The large wreath is from President Johnson.

Memorial Services Are Held in Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mayor Erik Jonsson of Dallas said today that only by following a guideline of the late President John F. Kennedy can America achieve a free society.

Jonsson spoke at memorial services a few feet from where Kennedy was shot by an assassin four years ago today.

The day was gloomy and overcast, contrasting with the Plane Crash Investigation Is Demanded

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ohio and Kentucky officials, some questioning safety factors at Greater Cincinnati Airport, have called for investigations of Monday night's crash that claimed 66 lives.

Two persons died in hospitals Tuesday of injuries. Four of the remaining 16 survivors are in critical condition.

Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Ohio Aviation Director Norman Crabtree and U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, asked Tuesday for investigations of safety at the airport.

The airport, 15 miles from here across the Ohio River in Boone County, Ky., has had four crashes since 1961—the latest Monday night when a Trans World Airlines jet carrying 82 persons plunged into a hillside and burned.

crisp brightness Nov. 22, 1963, when Kennedy was killed during a motorcade. The Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald, himself shot and killed two days later, fired the shots that killed Kennedy and critically wounded Texas Gov. John Connally.

Jonsson spoke from a temporary podium immediately behind the small granite marker that notes that Kennedy was shot nearby.

On the program were Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Roman Catholic diocese, Rabbi Gerald J. Klein and the Rev. M. S. Wright of the Peoples Missionary Baptist Church.

Ever since the assassination, mourners have placed bouquets and wreaths at Dealey Plaza, and for a while, the nearby two-square-block area was nearly covered by flowers.

Now, with the passage of time, fewer flowers are to be seen. Tuesday there were only three. Two bore no message but the third had a note attached that read simply: "4th."

Still, visitors come to Dealey Plaza. They take photographs of the Texas School Book Depository, where, the Warren Commission said, the fatal shots were fired from a sixth-floor window.

They walk down the sidewalk parallel to Elm Street, where the president was hit. They point to the triple underpass, through which the presidential motorcade rushed to Parkland Hospital, five miles away.

Mostly, though, they just stand and look, perhaps reliving in their minds the tragic event that happened there Nov. 22, 1963.

Dallas leaders have decided not to make Dealey Plaza the official Kennedy Memorial site in Dallas. The Kennedy Memorial Plaza, a block-square park, is to be two blocks to the east.

Will Probe Issues In MPSC Tie

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A fact-finding panel convened here today to look into the issues which set off a strike of electrical workers against the Missouri Public Service Co.

Robert L. Howard, retired University of Missouri law professor, the public member of the panel, said he thought the hearing would continue through the afternoon.

Serving with him on the panel are M.C. Boogher, vice president of the utility, and William H. James, business manager of Local 1464 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Howard said after the hearing the panel will have 15 days in which to draft a recommendation.

Cloudy to partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Little change in temperature. Low tonight lower 30s. High on Thursday in 50s. Precipitation probability tonight and Thursday 10 per cent.

The temperature Wednesday was 33 at 7 a.m., and 34 at noon with .08 moisture. Low Tuesday night was 33.

The temperature one year ago today was high 75; low 58.

Phoenix Is Not Welcome

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese sailors forced their way aboard the Quaker yacht Phoenix today, hauled up the anchor and towed the craft into the South China Sea.

The yacht's crew of eight pacifists, including six Americans, was expected to sail to Saigon with their cargo of $6,250 worth of medicines, anticipating another expulsion which would get more headlines for their opposition to American participation in the Vietnam war.

Skipped by Robert Eaton, 23, of Annapolis, Md., the Phoenix tried to deliver the medicines bought by Quaker pacifists to the South Vietnamese after North Vietnam said American bombing made it unsafe for the yacht to enter Haiphong with them.

The South Vietnamese government rejected the medicines because they were originally intended for the North Vietnamese and ordered the yacht out of South Vietnamese waters.

One of the pacifists, Harrison Butterworth, 48, a professor of English at Ohio University, stalled an attempt to tow the Phoenix out of Da Nang bay Tuesday night by swimming ashore.

Butterworth was captured by U.S. Marines early today along a section of beach that is considered to be under Viet Cong control. Carrying a life preserver, he was brought to Da Nang where he told Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the area military commander, that the group intended to sail south toward Saigon.

Lighting Contest For Sedalia Area

A Christmas lighting and decoration contest in the residential section of Sedalia will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, with details to be announced later after a chairman for the project has been named.

Industrial Bonds Pass By a Sizeable Margin

Vote Nearly 12 to 1 On Rival Expansion

Sedalia responded to the special election on $750,000 of General Industrial Obligation Bonds, Tuesday, and displayed sound support of the project by casting 3,227 votes for the bonds while 270 votes were cast against them. It was a 11.95 to 1 vote favoring a Sedalia move to go forward.

The percentage vote favoring the issue was one of the largest, if not the largest, ever given a bond issue in Sedalia, according to several "old timers." The over-all vote was small compared to 11,650 registered voters on the books in Sedalia. The total votes cast came to 3,497.

First Ward results were 1,040 Yes votes and 67 No; Second Ward 537 Yes and 56 No; Third Ward 827 Yes and 81 No; Fourth Ward 823 Yes and 66 No.

William "Bill" Hall, Sedalia Industrial Development Director, was at the City Hall when the vote tally was returned. "This is gratifying. I am really happy over the results," he exclaimed.

Gary Cooper, Executive Manager of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce said, "This is great. I was never in doubt that the issue would be carried, but it is really something to receive a vote of 11.95 to 1 in favor of the bonds." Cooper, during the conversations while waiting for the returns, said "Sedalia would be surprised to know the older people did favor this bond proposal. I took several to the polls and invariably their remarks were in the vein of 'Industry is helping men and I'll help industry' which was their way of expressing their feelings."

The bonds will be used to finance expansion of the Rival Manufacturing Co., which took over the old National Engineers back in 1959 and for a time called Sedalia's operation "Steam-O-Matic" and changed the name to Rival Manufacturing Co., in recent years.

Plans are to construct 72,000 square feet of additional facilities adjacent to the present operation at 16th Street and Lamine. There are presently about 450 persons working in the plant. The additional space will make room for an additional 150 initial job opportunities.

A representative of the Rival Manufacturing Co., who was also present, said he was very happy over the results. "It shows the people of Sedalia appreciate us, and I can speak for our company, that Rival appreciates the faith they have shown in our company by the very sound vote of confidence."

Open on Friday

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Most state offices will re-open Friday after a single day off for Thanksgiving Thursday.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes has planned to leave late today with his family to have Thanksgiving in his hometown of Charleston.

Election Results Hailed

An open letter to the people of Sedalia:

"As director of the Department of Industrial Development, it is my high honor and privilege to congratulate the community, and especially the 3,227 voters who recognized the need for industrial expansion in Sedalia. A great deal of thanks and heartfelt gratitude go to quite a number of groups and individuals who were responsible for helping educate the general populace of Sedalia on the merits of financing an industrial expansion such as the one yesterday for Rival Manufacturing Co.

"My personal thanks are extended to the news media; without their interest and cooperation the public would never have known the importance of such a project; to the City Council whose farsighted efforts have helped to establish a climate conducive of industrial development; to the Chamber of Commerce whose many efforts to improve the community have been sound and forward-looking; to the Industrial Board and the Steering Committee for the Rival project whose ideas have been invaluable and whose faith in me has been extremely gratifying.

"Gratitude is extended to all of those who helped furnish transportation, and who worked at the polls, and especially to the citizens who listened intently as the program was presented. When a special election program carries by a majority of 12 to 1, especially after all of the comments I have heard concerning the supposedly 2,000 negative votes, and 'supposedly' that Sedalia has had a reputation for having them for years, this indicates that Sedalia wants to move forward and that the people, including many of our senior citizens who appeared to be in the majority at the polling places yesterday, look forward to the industrial diversity that Sedalia has to offer.

"We can be proud of the Rival Manufacturing Co. and the opportunity that they have given us to show industry that Sedalia means business when it comes to industrial and economic development. We know we live in the finest town

Near Summit Of Hill 875

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. reinforcements poured onto Hill 875 near Dak To today as American paratroopers, artillery and planes fought doggedly to root out the last entrenched North Vietnamese.

A battalion commander of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade, whose riflemen were struggling up the hill to take a bristling ridgeline, said: "We'll be up there for Thanksgiving."

While the Americans have taken record casualties in the battle, the North Vietnamese also have suffered their greatest loss, according to American field reports.

With at least 246 Americans killed, 860 wounded and an estimated 1,290 North Vietnamese killed, the cost of the 20-day-old campaign around Dak To has been exceeded in the war only by the 30-day campaign just before Thanksgiving 1965 in the Ia Drang valley and around near-by Plei Mei. In that one 371 Americans and 105 South Vietnamese were killed, 558 Americans and 248 South Vietnamese were wounded, 1,771 Communists were killed and 138 were captured.

At noon today, after 72 hours of fighting, two U.S. battalions appeared to be in nearly full control of Hill 875. They were clawing their way toward a bunkered ridge line leading off the crest and still held by the enemy.

The Dak To fighting has become the longest sustained battle of the war, but U.S. officers believe the fighting is petering out. They believe the 174th North Vietnamese regiment, in reserve to the northwest to Dak To, was committed to Hill 875 as a diversionary move so North Vietnam's 32nd and 66th regiments could slip away to the Cambodian border on the southwest and sanctuary from pursuing American troops.

"I have to give the enemy his due," said one senior U.S. officer. "Obviously he had outstanding morale and discipline. He stood his ground" on Hill 875.

The battle for Hill 875 since noon Sunday has cost 79 American paratroopers killed and another 178 wounded, including seven killed and 38 wounded in a fierce clash at dusk Tuesday.

Another battalion of U.S. infantrymen moved onto the hill today, increasing the American strength to 1,500.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported that two more battalions of government troops also had been moved to Dak To.

U.S. fighter-bombers continued their round-the-clock hammering of the enemy's deep bunkers in the side of the hill. U.S. bombers mounted three raids today on nearby areas. The eight-engine Stratofortresses pounded suspected troop concentrations 12 miles northeast of Dak To, suspected enemy support bases and infiltration and withdrawal routes 16 miles west-southwest of Dak To, and a suspected enemy area 15 miles north-northeast of Dak To.

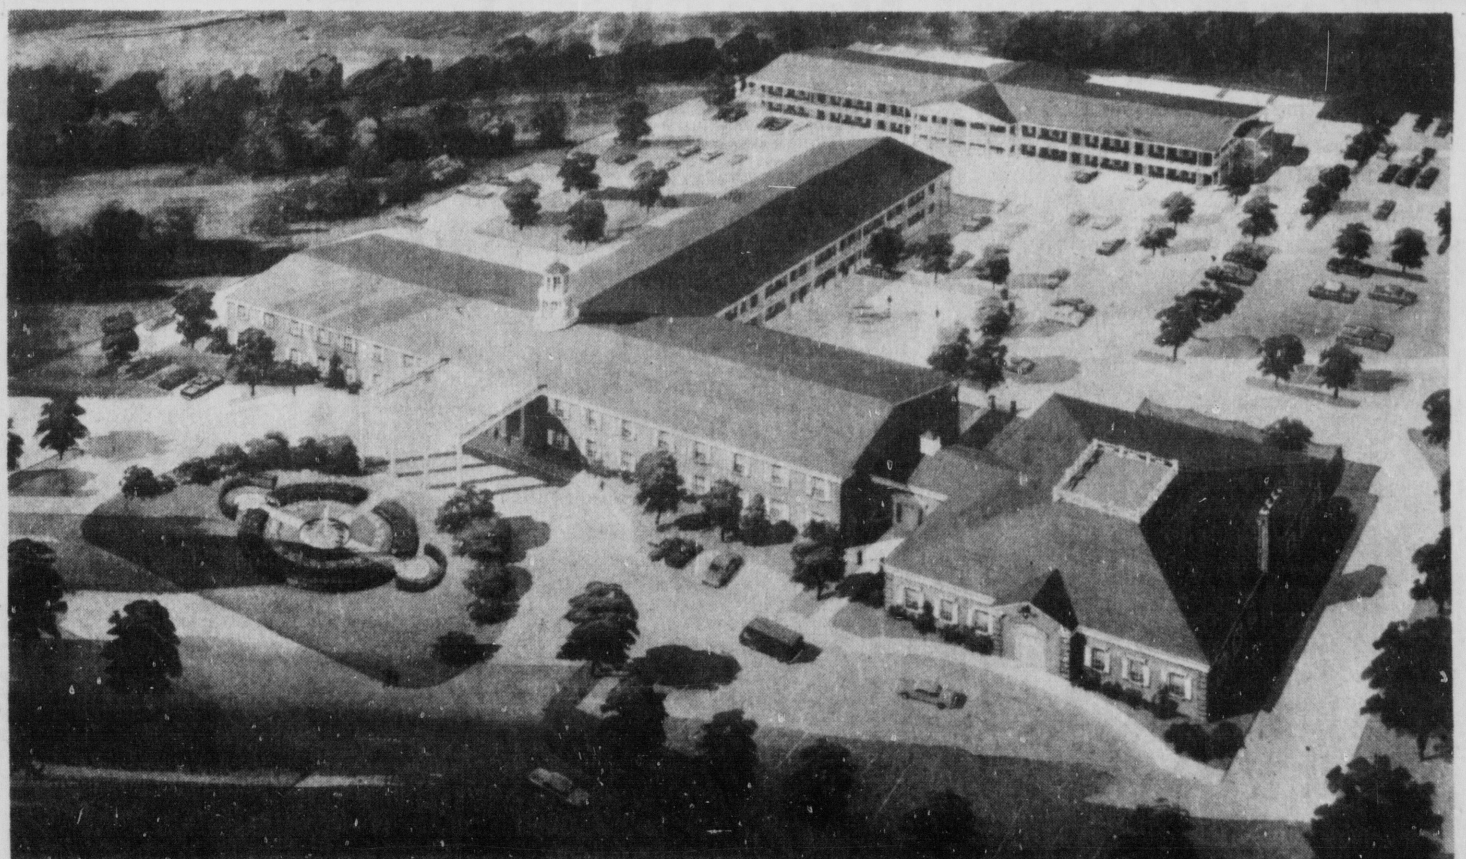

Exercise Caution At Intersections With New Lights

Sedalia police have asked local motorists to exercise caution at the intersection of Broadway and Grand and Broadway and Kentucky where the new traffic control lights are now in partial operation.

The Broadway and Kentucky intersection provides special danger for on-Broadway traffic since most drivers are not accustomed to stopping at the intersection. At least one accident has been reported at Broadway and Kentucky since the lights were turned on.

Chief of Police Bill Miller said "Summons will be issued to people who run the light. If an accident is caused by running the light the driver will be at fault."

Until drivers are familiar with the new lights, police said, they should be careful to avoid collision with other vehicles.

Sedalia Ramada Inn

Above is the architect's drawing of the Ramada Inn to be constructed at West Highway 50 and Thompson Blvd. in Sedalia. Bids on construction will be opened at the Missouri State Bank at 3 p.m. Dec. 15. The Inn is being put up by Don Breckenridge and local associates. Breckenridge is associated with Ramada Inns in several other cities. The Inn will be a 100-room affair with a banquet hall that will seat 400 people. It is to be a two-level building with plenty of room for expansion to a 300 or 400 -room installation. The building will be on the south side of Highway 50, and just east of Thompson. Frank McGuire and Associates are the architects.

Goulet In New Musical

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The stage is bare except for a pair of baby spotlights which Robert Goulet focuses on a bouquet of flowers. He snaps the shutter of his camera, and the image of the bouquet flashes in full color on a screen at the back of the stage.

He chooses another angle, takes the photo, and it appears on the screen. Then he substitutes a rose and photographs it. The image of the rose lights up the stage.

Thus the imaginative opening scene of "The Happy Times," a new musical having its formal opening at the Ahmanson Theater of the Music Center this week after a week's delay because of technical problems. It was worth the wait. The show seems certain to add one more hit to the perfect string of musicals directed and choreographed by Gower Champion.

The show is derived from the Broadway comedy of the same name which in turn came from a book by Robert L. Fontaine. The setting is a small French-Canadian town to which a successful photographer returns for a visit with his uninhibited family. The screened flashes of his photographs are carried through the show with marvelous results, adding beauty to the otherwise stark setting and providing warm evocation of memory.

The show opens at New York's Broadway Theater Jan. 2.

Making his first Broadway appearance since his sensational debut in 1960 with "Came-let," Goulet has a role ideally suited to his talents. As the wayward son Jacques, he creates a character that is warm and robust. Composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb have provided songs he can belt, notably the title tune and "Being Alive."

David Wayne occupies costar billing as Grandpere Bonnard, the unreconstructed patriarch who collects photos of naked women and courts a nearby widow. He provides humor and spice and is made up for an indeterminate age, possibly as a sexagenarian.

Of equal importance to the plot is Bibi Bonnard, the boy who seeks to follow the footsteps of a dashing uncle. He is played with amazing stage presence by Mike Rupert, a student at nearby San Marino High School, who sings, dances and looks like a teen-age Ray Bolger. The weak link in the cast is Willie Burke, through no fault of hers. She is a lovely actress with a fine voice, but her role as the school-teacher-sweetheart of Jacques lacks the definition of the colorful Bonnards.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the girl who described her boyfriend as a "first-class gentleman" because he offered to pay for her abortion (which she later discovered she didn't need) moved me to write my first letter to a newspaper.

This letter will probably sound like a grade B movie or a rotten made-up story, and I only wish it were. But unfortunately it's true — every word of it.

My mother died when I was 16 and I started sleeping with an older fellow. I told myself I was doing it because I missed my mother. I know now I did it because I was too dumb and too weak to say no.

When I became pregnant my boyfriend took me to an abortionist who botched the job and I almost died. As a result of that abortion I will never be able to have children. My "great love" dropped me promptly and I took up with another bum who dragged me down into the gutter where I stayed for three miserable years.

One day I woke up sick to death of myself and decided to get a respectable job. I am now 29 years old, and I look 45. I avoid my school friends because I have made such a mess of my life I don't know what to say when we meet.

I am tortured by the past and terrified of the future. I wrecked my life because of a foolish mistake. If just one girl learns something from this letter perhaps my messed-up life will have served some purpose. Please print it. — MY NAME IS MUD

Dear Friend: You did not ask for advice but I feel obliged to give it. Your inability to forgive yourself has set you on a course of self-destruction. Brooding and agonizing over past mistakes takes energy — energy that could be used to build a decent future. Professional help might be the answer if you are unable to do it alone.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week I had dinner at the home of a friend. I have eaten there before and he or a member of his family always said grace. This time his mother asked me to say it. I declined, explaining I was under the impression that grace should be said by a member of the host family.

The woman called me ill-mannered and ignorant (those words) and shouted angrily, "If you don't say grace we won't eat." I was too choked up to speak so I just sat there. They did eat after a few minutes and grace was not said. I didn't touch a bite of food and excused myself immediately after dinner.

My boyfriend walked me home and he was terribly upset. Was I wrong? Should I apologize? If I am invited to his home for dinner again, should I accept? — PERPLEXED

Dear Perplexed: Guests are sometimes asked to say grace and when asked, they should do so. A guest who defers to a member of the host family, however, should not be pressed or made to feel uncomfortable.

The boy's mother sounds like she could go bear hunting with a switch. If you care for the young man, accept future invitations and make no reference to this ugly incident. Say grace, if asked, and carry on as if nothing happened.

IN THE NEWS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Don't make a move or I'll blow your head off," the bank official yelled at the robbery suspect. The suspect obeyed. Neither he nor the bank officer had a gun.

Police said the assistant bank supervisor, Ronald Richards, chased one of two youths who held up the Security First National Bank branch Monday. They said Richards collared the youth and threatened to shoot.

Officers said the 16-year-old suspect had $575 when Richards caught him.

Police were searching for the other youth. They said neither youth showed a gun during the holdup.

Second Devaluation Could Cause Crisis

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The "All is well" statements of American financial and government officials following the devaluation of the British pound are necessary but strictly for show. The trouble is serious; more crises may be ahead.

Immediately following the 14.3 per cent devaluation, in fact, the suspicions began to develop that this was not enough and that six to nine months from now a larger devaluation may be needed.

If such a second crisis does develop it will not be assimilated as easily as the first. The British knew that a minor devaluation was acceptable to much of the world; a larger one would cause other nations to devalue in self defense.

This frightening picture is not extreme. It could very well occur if Britain is not successful in proving to the world that her pound will buy just as much as 2.4 dollars or 12 French francs or 9.6 German marks.

If the pound fails again, the pressure on the dollar to prove its relative value would be extreme. This country now guarantees that value by permitting foreign governments to redeem their dollars in gold.

However, these foreigners now have claims on more gold than we possess. We, too, have been running up big bills overseas, putting dollars in the hands of those who can test our contention that our money is worth its weight in gold.

That is why analysts now insist that foreign bills must be paid, that the United States must stop the outflow of gold and dollars, and that it must bring dollars home by correcting its trade imbalance.

It is why, also, that critics of fiscal policy insist that the domestic economy must be put in order. If inflation is permitted to run away, then U. S. goods could be priced out of world markets.

To correct such problems is easy in theory, but with large foreign aid commitments and a costly war in Vietnam, the dollar flow persists. At home, inflation also persists in the absence of taxes and less government spending.

If the world loses confidence in the dollar, as well as in the pound, then the entire value relationship of currencies would be disputed. Confidence would evaporate. Chaos would reign. Trade would slow depressingly.

In the meantime, some ominous effects already are appearing in the U. S. economy. As a result of an imperfect fiscal policy and because of Britain's problems, America's interest rates are soaring to century-high levels.

High rates in the United States might entice investments to remain in this country; but high rates, maintained for a long period of time, can slow business expansion also.

This is a serious dilemma, because parts of the American economy, such as housing, are just now recovering from a severe shortage of investment funds. Last year housing had its own private depression.

High returns also might draw money from the stock market. Instead of being invested in shares of industry, this money would be lent at perhaps a greater return than stocks could offer.

Want Penal Reform for Juveniles

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Witnesses testifying before the Missouri Legislature's joint interim committee on the Administration of Justice have called for reforms, including creation of a youth authority to administer training schools.

St. Louis Circuit Judge Theodore McMillian told the committee a youth authority could operate a system of training schools on a regional basis. He described facilities and service at the state training school at Boonville as woefully inadequate and called for reevaluation of the service.

"Let's stop being hypocrites," Judge McMillian said. "If a training school system for rehabilitating young offenders is worth having, it should be able to provide the services it was designed for."

St. Louis County Circuit Judge Noah Weinstein said also that the staff at Boonville is inadequate because of budget limitations. Judges McMillian and Weinstein are assigned to the juvenile divisions in their circuits.

Discuss Airport

TOPEKA (AP)—A discussion of the proposed Mid-Continent International Airport Turnpike will be held Dec. 6 in Kansas City by highway officials from Kansas and Missouri.

A feasibility study of the road-way which would link Johnson County, Kansas City, Kan., and Leavenworth to a connection with the Mid-Continent International Airport of Kansas City, Mo. may be presented by Wilbur Smith and Associates, a firm making the preliminary survey.

enough food or enough help on hand. If he had known beforehand he would have been ready, Cooper said.

Eugene Kreisel, director of the Agriculture and Farm Marketing Division, stated that he had been approached concerning a meeting in the planning stage on Jan. 10 that would bring more than 1,000 farmers to Sedalia, which Gibson Implement Co., is instrumental in bringing here.

Cooper noted the 4-H Recognition Night held recently was supported by the Chamber and that the Chamber served refreshments. He also told of the success of the Soccer Tournament, in which an attractive cup from the Chamber was presented, with Mrs. Vivian Warren making the presentation.

Carl Yates, president, presided over the meeting, and asked the board to be thinking of a speaker for the annual banquet which will be held March 14.

Present at the meeting were: Carl Yates, Jr., president; Thomas T. Keating, first vice-president; J. L. Van Wagner, second vice-president; Gary N. Cooper, executive manager; Vivian E. Warren, treasurer; C. J. Chapman, William H. Hall, P. J. Hedderich, E. N. Healey, K. A. Klamert, Eugene Kreisel, Robert W. Mason, Richard Parkhurst and Herbert Taylor, directors.

Accidents

There was a one car accident on Highway 50, a half mile east of Dresden at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday.

According to Trooper Charles Pieper of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, the accident occurred when a car driven west on Highway 50 by William H. Carroll, Kansas City, went into a curve, ran off on the shoulder on the north side of the road, went back across the highway nearly hitting an oncoming car, cut back to the north shoulder and ran into a field overturning twice.

Carroll was apparently uninjured Trooper Pieper said.

Carroll was issued a summons for driving while intoxicated and was taken to the Pettis County Jail.

Fred C. Mertel, 80, 311 West Tenth, received a cut on the inside of his mouth when the 1954 Chevrolet he was driving west on Broadway struck the new traffic control light at Broadway and Grand about 6:36 p.m. Tuesday. The car was towed to Darnell's service station.

Two persons sustained injuries in a two-car accident at 1009 East Broadway at 6:23 p.m. Tuesday. According to police reports a 1966 Cadillac, driven west on Broadway by Judy Mae Young, 27, 617 East 17th, struck a parked 1963 Ford, owned by Joe Leslie Derrist, 1009 East Broadway. Miss Young told officers she was crowded into hitting the parked car by another car on her left.

Miss Young was taken to Bothwell Hospital in Ewing's ambulance where she was treated for a whiplash and multiple bruises to her legs. Gary Young, 14, 617 East 17th, a passenger in Miss Young's car was also taken to Bothwell Hospital for treatment of a laceration on his wrist.

Minor damage resulted in two-car accident on the Thompson Hills Shopping Center lot at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday.

Involved were a 1963 Dodge, being backed on the lot by Gertrude Mae Potter, 69, Otterville, and a 1967 Pontiac, driven east on the lot by Lowell K. Handley, 32, Springfield.

Damage was to the left rear of the Dodge and the right side of the Pontiac.

No injuries were reported in a two-car accident at Broadway and Kentucky at 12:11 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved were a 1963 Cadillac, driven east on Broadway by Victor Gill, 908 South Arlington, and 1957 Chevrolet, driven east on Broadway by Gary Wayne Jonson, 18, 1620 East 10th.

According to police reports Gill was stopped for the traffic light and Jonson changed lanes and did not see the light.

Damage was to the rear of the Cadillac and the front of the Chevrolet.

Minor damage resulted in a two-car accident at 1017 South Massachusetts at 2:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved were a 1967 Buick, driven north on Massachusetts by Patricia A. Eberting, 18, 2500 Wing, and a parked 1967 Pontiac, owned by Floyd L. Lively, 1300 West Fourth.

Damage was to the front of the Buick and the left side of the Pontiac.

Police Reports

Richard Aldridge reported to police that a gum machine owned by the Dickie Vending Co., Springfield, was taken from Garst's Drive-In sometime Sunday night. The machine was sponsored by the Lion's Club and valued at $30.

Judy Christian reported to police that a stuffed toy poodle, valued at $25, was taken from 1901 East Sixth sometime Sunday or Monday. Entrance to the house was gained by breaking a rear door window.

Five window panes in an overhead door at the Central Distributing Co., 2501 West Main, were shot out by a shotgun according to Sedalia Police sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

E. W. Biery, 515 East 14th, reported to Sedalia Police Wednesday morning, that

Preparing Baskets For Needy

Sixty Smith-Cotton home rooms filled large bushel baskets with delicious Thanksgiving goodies Wednesday morning for the members of the Student Councils to deliver to needy families in Sedalia. This has become the annual Thanksgiving project of both the Junior and Senior High Councils, as it has been traditional since the depression years of the 1930's.

Each year the names of deserving families are obtained from the Welfare Office to be distributed to the home rooms. The students in each first hour class then plan a balanced meal and assign their members to bring the various food items for the basket. This year, with 60 home rooms in participation, Thanksgiving cheer will be brought to more families than ever before in Smith-Cotton's history, for 56 baskets were delivered in 1965, and 57 in 1966.

Members of the Councils distributed the baskets to the various residences on Wednesday morning under the supervision of Harry Lambirth, president of the Senior High Council; Jane Herrick, president of the Junior High Council; Mr. James Braden and Mr. Harry Browder, sponsors of the Senior Council; and Mrs. Ethel Lyon, Junior Council sponsor.

someone threw a rock at his house breaking a shingle valued at $10, sometime early Wednesday morning.

A window in one of the rooms at Holiday Inn was broken by vandals sometime Tuesday according to Sedalia Police.

Sedalia Police discovered a break-in at the County Distributing Co., 1111 East Third, at 10:24 p.m. Tuesday. Beer, valued at $51.15 was found stacked in two piles on the northwest corner of the building. Entrance had apparently been gained by breaking a screen and a window in the building.

Police are investigating several suspects in the attempted burglary.

George Brown, 501 East 15th, reported to Sedalia Police Wednesday that he found a deer skin in the street near his home, Tuesday.

Sedalia Police arrested Gerald D. McCormick Wednesday following a call to Chief William Miller from the Owen County, Indiana, prosecuting attorney. McCormick is being held for Indiana officials on suspicion of statutory rape and sodomy involving a 7-year-old girl. The attack occurred early last week.

McCormick, who is a native Sedalian, was picked up by Sedalia police at Rival Manufacturing Co., where he had been working since the end of last week.

Officials from Owen County are expected to arrive in Sedalia Wednesday night.

Police Court

James Wagner, 1606 West Seventh, careless and imprudent driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $75.

Victor Goering, 3300 South Limit, running a red light, forfeited a $5 bond.

Phillip Schouten, LaMonte, running a stop sign, forfeited a $5 bond.

Fred Mertel, 311 West 10th, careless and imprudent driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Joseph Johnson, 611 West Third, charges of fighting in public and drunk in public were withdrawn by the city attorney, and he was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail for disturbance of the public peace.

Tommy Oliver, 1109 East 10th, fighting in public, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Kiwanis Guests Of Rotary

The members of the Sedalia Rotary Club had as their guests the members of the Sedalia Kiwanis Club on Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell for a program on the discovery and treatment of tuberculosis. Dr. Harry Purviance, pastor of the First Christian church and president of the Pettis County Tuberculosis Society, presented the program.

A film prepared by the National TB Association entitled "The Elusive Enemy" was shown. The program was introduced by Bob Lantis, November program chairman for Rotary.

The Kiwanis Club regularly meets on Thursday, and because of Thanksgiving Day the members elected to meet with Rotarians for the program this week.

The joint meeting was presided over by Jake Summers, Rotary president, who recognized James Giokaris, president of Kiwanis, in his welcome to Kiwanis members.

Invocation was given by Aubrey Case. Group singing was led by Charles Hoffens, with Mrs. Lillian Maynard playing the piano accompaniment.

Out-of-town and student guests were: Harold Walker, Rotarian and former Sedalian from South Pasadena, Texas; Dawson Bennett, Rotarian from Centerville, Iowa; Bill Heer and Dick Hoffmann, from Sacred Heart High School and Terry Arnold and Keith Yount, Jr., from Smith-Cotton High School. James Denny made the introductions.

A Shortage of Rice Plagues Indonesia

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
Associated Press Writer
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Aminah, looking more than her 20 years, stood in line three hours waiting for her rice ration.

Around her, hundreds of women and children, barefoot and ragged, noisily pushed around the wooden barrels of government rice. Two of Aminah's four children clung to her sarong.

It was at one of the ration centers scattered throughout this city of four million. Rice, the basic food, has tripled in price in the past six weeks and is still rising.

Indonesia is suffering one of its longest droughts in years, but mismanagement is also responsible for the critical rice situation. Various ministers and directors only shrug and say "It's not my responsibility."

The moonsoon rains will eventually come, but the long dry spell has destroyed up to 20 per cent of the summer rice crop in Java. This small island, with 70 per cent of Indonesia's 110 million people, grows 75 per cent of the rice.

Some 4,000 youths marched against the offices of Acting President Gen. Suharto recently to demand he lower prices.

Suharto told them rice arriving soon would help reduce the price. In fact Indonesia is importing 183,000 tons between now and next April when the harvest comes in. The cost, more than $30 million, is a blow to the government's economic stabilization program.

At least 10.4 million tons are needed this year but production will be some 500,000 tons below this by many estimates. The government is already using next year's rice stocks to meet this emergency. Another bad crop could be disastrous, for the people and the troubled government.

Thailand also is facing shortages and has reduced exports to Indonesia. The Philippines is a rice-importing nation and is selling here only for badly needed hard currency.

The United States, which has signed an agreement to sell 100,000 tons of rice for $19.5 million on soft terms, is Indonesia's biggest supplier. Its reserves are limited and it is attempting to push bulgur wheat, cheaper and more nutritious. But rice is the traditional food.

Transportation costs are high and inflation continues to force up rice prices.

Miners From Mozambique

LOURENCO MARGUES, Mozambique (AP)—Forty-eight per cent of the workers in coal, uranium and gold mines in neighboring South Africa are from Mozambique, the South African government's recruiting agency says.

The total number of natives from the Portuguese east African territory working in South African mines last year was 163,914, the agency said.

The workers are signed up for work periods of 18 months.

THE NEWS in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kilauea Volcano on the island of Hawaii has ended its latest eruption, but the U.S. Geological Survey says further outbursts are likely.

Dr. Richard Fiske, a staff member at a geological survey observatory on the rim of Halemau Crater at the volcano's summit, in a telephone call to survey offices here, said the mountain remains "quite swollen and we can expect further eruptions."

The volcano erupted for 24 hours starting Nov. 5, then stopped until Nov. 14 when lava fountains again erupted.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tour of model-cities neighborhoods in selected communities throughout the nation will be sponsored by the Department of Housing and Urban Development during the week of Dec. 3.

Newsmen and specialists in urban affairs will begin the tour in Washington, D.C. and finish it in San Francisco, Calif. Between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts they will see the selected neighborhoods in Rochester, N.Y., Gainesville, Ga., Waco, Tex., Denver, and Oakland and Richmond, Calif.

Capital Footnotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ambassador-at-large Averell Harriman leaves today on a one-week tour with stops in Iran, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Yugoslavia and Romania. The tour's main purpose is Harriman's participation Thursday at the inauguration of Mangla Dam in Pakistan which was completed with U.S. and World Bank assistance.

The House passed a bill Monday giving a commission more time to study the feasibility of a sea-level canal linking the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. It refused, however, to give the commission an additional $4.5 million.

State Constitutions Brought Up to Date

By KENT ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer
Winds of change are in the air around state capitals this year, and the end result could be some new state constitutions and many more amendments to the basic charters.

State constitutions have come under fire for being antiquated, too wordy or too frequently amended. Many state legislators apparently agree, and constitutional referenda will be held in at least nine states during the next 12 months.

The proposed revisions range from minor amendments affecting only one county to new constitutions.

In several states—where revisions have not been approved by legislatures—there are movements to begin consideration of updating the documents next year.

Voters in Alabama will decide Dec. 5 on 16 constitutional amendments dealing primarily

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Houston Methodist Church met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Earl Gregory with 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Simmons, present.

Mrs. Jack Nagel, president, opened with "Let us be Thankful," followed by a book study on "Encounter of the Faiths," by Mrs. C. F. Wicker. Mrs. Clinton Lowrey gave an article on Hinduism.

Mrs. Nagel opened the afternoon meeting with "Why Pray," and Mrs. Lowrey gave the afternoon devotional with music. "Bringing in the Sheaves." Corsages for missions were sent to Mrs. Ocie Wicker and Mrs. G. G. Tevebaugh, and Mrs. Daisy Simmons was also presented with a corsage. Mrs. J. D. Gregory had charge of the afternoon program, "Six Serving Women," with Mrs. Earl Gregory playing "How Great Thou Art," and Mrs. Hall Walk, Mrs. Oscar Rothrock, Mrs. Nagel, Mrs. Wicker, Mrs. Wiley, and Mrs. Lowrey assisting.

Those attending the district meeting in Sedalia were: Mrs. Lowrey, Mrs. Earl Gregory, Mrs. Nagel and Miss Tevebaugh.

with local issues and state bond issues.

A constitutional convention convenes Dec. 1 in Pennsylvania and the convention's proposals will go to the voters in April's presidential primary. The convention is limited to four issues: taxation and finance, reapportionment, local government and judiciary.

Proposals for constitutional change will be on the ballot in seven states in November 1968. The states are Montana, Michigan, Idaho, New Hampshire, Colorado, Nebraska and Massachusetts.

The Michigan Legislature is in special session to implement provisions of its 3-year-old constitution, and next November voters will decide on a proposal to delete a ban on graduated state and local income taxes.

Massachusetts voters will vote on three proposals approved this year at joint legislative constitutional sessions. They are a graduated income tax, gubernatorial disability and increasing the time allowed a governor to consider enacted bills from five to 10 days.

Colorado residents will vote on an amendment proposing election of a governor and lieutenant governor by a single vote.

The California Constitution Revision Committee is expected to have a proposed revision of

But Far From the Worst

The nation has seen better years in which to celebrate Thanksgiving.

A rising death toll in Vietnam, rising threats of a new nuclear weapons race, rising urban and labor unrest at home, not to forget rising prices—all of these cast long shadows over the holiday in 1967 and stretch as far as we can see into 1968.

But there have also been far, far worse years.

Consider 1621, which tradition remembers as the year of the first Thanksgiving in America. The Pilgrims had lost half their tiny band of some 100 souls to disease during the terrible winter before. Their colony on a raw and inhospitable continent was by no means established and secure.

Yet those who remained gave thanks—not merely for mere survival but for the opportunity which the God they worshipped still offered them to build a new life in a New World for themselves and their posterity.

Or consider 1863, the year of Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation, from which we date our modern observance.

The nation was in the midst of the most bitter war in its history, before or since. Though there had been a great victory for the North at Gettysburg in July, no one could foresee how many more months of bloodletting, of brother killing brother, were still to be endured.

Yet the people gave thanks—not merely for survival but for the promise of peace—of the opportunity, as Lincoln was later to say, "to bind up the nation's wounds" and to join, North with South, to fashion an even stronger and more perfect Union.

True, there have been more placid years than 1967. But if anyone knows of a time when there were no crises on the horizon, when life was better for the greatest number than it is today, when the future was less forbidding and more promising than it is today—when, in short, Americans had more reason to be thankful than they have today—let him step forward and we will listen to his case for calling off the holiday.

Until then, we will give thanks for our own and our country's blessings this Thanksgiving, as Americans have always done, and as they always will.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

U. S. Retains Its Missile Lead

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—There's been a lot of research in the Pentagon following the announcement that Russia has developed an orbital bomb. And the conclusions are good news for anyone who is worried over the missile gap. We can report there is solid evidence that the United States still has clear missile superiority over the Soviet Union.

However, missile might is so great in both the USA and USSR that diplomats are more than ever convinced that neither can afford war.

There is some evidence that the Russians decided to adopt an orbital weapons system in a desperate attempt to reduce the American advantage—even though it might violate the treaty banning arms from outer space. Secretary of Defense McNamara, giving them the benefit of the doubt, has declared that the United States doesn't regard the bomb as a violation of the treaty, since it will operate in near space, not outer space.

He also stated that the orbital bomb is less efficient than our advanced intercontinental missiles, though not all our military experts take comfort from this fact. A bomb triggered from orbit, for example, could not be relied upon to hit pinpoint targets; therefore, some experts fear the Russians would have to use them against cities. The orbital bomb would also give less warning than a missile fired from the ground.

However, the United States now has more than 4,000 nuclear warheads, as opposed to an estimated 1,000 for the Soviet Union. These facts are no military secret. They are well known in Moscow.

This doesn't count thousands of battlefield nuclear weapons. The United States, for example, keeps over 7,000 nuclear weapons in constantly rotating arsenals in Europe alone.

Thus an enemy bent upon surprise attack would have the impossible task of knocking out literally thousands of Pearl Harbors in order to leave America helpless. Each warhead, incidentally, packs more destructive power than all the guns fired and all the bombs dropped by both sides during World War II.

The United States is capable of launching a broadside of 1,000 Minuteman Missiles from underground silos. Some of the more advanced Minuteman Missiles are fitted with multiple warheads which will scatter over the target country like shotgun pellets.

—MORE U.S. MISSILES—
Our scientists are now perfecting a sophisticated multiple warhead, which can be programmed to scatter its nuclear pellets to separate targets. The present multiple warheads would spread nuclear destruction at random.

The Minuteman Missiles will be reworked to carry these individually targeted multiples, thus increasing their firepower many times.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Albert Bowmaster, formerly of Hoisington, Kan., has been transferred to the Sedalia Missouri Pacific shops as chief clerk. He takes the place of E. E. Cole transferred to St. Louis.

FORTY YEARS AGO

A deal was consummated whereby the Yunker-Lierman Drug Co., has purchased the stock and fixtures of the Rhodes Drug Co., on the northeast corner of Third street and Ohio avenue. An inventory will be made and Charles and Harold Yunker, sons of Louis C. Yunker, of the Yunker-Lierman firm, will take over the management. Both boys are registered pharmacists. W. M. Rhodes and son Miles, who conducted the drug store, came to Sedalia 11 years ago. The Y and L firm will continue also to conduct its present business at 114 East Third street.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION

The highest annual human consumption of sugar in the world is in Australia, Denmark, and the United Kingdom, where consumption is more than 110 pounds per capita; lowest is three pounds per person, in China.

Nigeria has some 250 different tribal groups, with as many languages. Necessity made English its official language.

Guest Editorial

THE INDIANAPOLIS STAR: Only a Billion? — Arthur C. Clarke, British novelist and science writer, who has written extensively on outer space, cites an example to aid in comprehending vast figures such as a billion.

Clarke says that if a person goes to the beach and gets a bucket of sand, suitably fine, it will contain about a billion grains.

He adds that if this bucket is dumped in a pile on a table and each separate grain is examined through a magnifying glass many differences between the individual grains will be discovered.

He also points out that by devoting one minute to the examination of each grain and working eight hours a day at this task it would take 6,000 years to look at each grain in the bucket. And 6,000 years is just about as long as recorded human history.

That's only one billion. The national debt of the United States is over $331 billion.

FLAG FEATURES

Religious edifices are featured on the flags of several nations. For example, Afghanistan's black, red and green banner shows a mosque, reflecting the nation's Islamic character; Cambodia's blue and red flag shows the great temple of Angkor Wat, the symbol of Buddhism.

Sylvia Gene of Philadelphia bowled the first perfect 300 game ever scored by a woman in match game competition.

Much To Be Thankful For

THE BASIC UNITY AND STRENGTH OF OUR NATION

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mental Anguish

With blunt and angry language, Millie's boss told her she was fired. Understandably upset, Millie filed suit for the "mental anguish" she had suffered.

But she could point to no personal violence, no slanderous words. The court concluded that her complaint was not tangible enough to support a claim for damages.

That has long been a basic rule of law. You may collect damages for mental anguish only if it is the result of some other wrongful act, such as assault or battery or false imprisonment. But not for mental anguish alone.

Why hasn't the law given compensation for mental anguish just as freely as for physical anguish? Mainly because of the danger of opening a Pandora's box of fake claims. How could a court tell if the complaint of mental anguish, unsubstantiated by any other specific offense, was really true?

Nevertheless, with the advance of science, we have learned a great deal more about our mental processes—including the causes and effects of mental anguish.

As a result, the law has grown steadily more tolerant of such claims, at least where the evidence of harm is reasonably clear and the conduct complained of is particularly outrageous.

Thus, a woman won damages for mental anguish from a troublemaker who spread a false rumor that her son, away at college, had hanged himself.

And a young girl won damages for mental anguish from a furniture repossessor who, knowing that she was home alone, used terrifying threats to make her open the door.

However, the law does not and cannot promise total tranquility to one and all. As a leading authority put it:

"Against a large part of the irritations of community life, a certain toughening of the mental hide is a better protection than the law could ever be."

In one case, a customer in a bar took offense at a waiter's tactless comments. But when the customer demanded damages for his mental anguish, a court turned him down.

"Plaintiff's charge amounts to nothing more than that his feelings were hurt," said the judge. "This does not state a cause of action."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Overstuffing With Food Burdens Digestive System

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

No matter how thankful we are that we live in a country where there is plenty to eat, we should not make that an excuse for stuffing ourselves. Eating too much places a heavy burden on your digestive system and makes for an undesirable gain in weight.

Whereas the Pilgrims ate turkey at Thanksgiving because it was in season and wouldn't be again for another year, we can, thanks to cold storage, have turkey the year-round. And, thanks to modern canning methods, we can also have cranberry sauce or jelly any time we want it.

If you do overeat and then depend on well-advertised drugs for relief of stomach distress, you are only storing up trouble for yourself. Lying down and hoping your discomfort will go away will do no good, either. You take your food primarily to give you energy. So, if you eat too much, you would do well to go outdoors and work it off.

Q—What is the cause and treatment of Paget's disease?

A—Since you are a woman, I assume you are referring to cancer of the nipple and not the Paget's disease that involves the bones of the legs, lower spine and skull. The cause is unknown and, since this form of cancer involves only the skin and superficial breast tissue, it can be cured by surgical removal if this is done early in the course of the disease.

Q—I drink about three pints of milk a day. Is this too much? If so, why?

A—Milk is an excellent food at any age. Adults who are not definitely allergic to milk should drink at least a pint a day. If you are not overweight, three pints a day will not hurt you. If you are overweight you should switch to milk with only 2 per cent fat or, better yet, to skim milk.

Q—What are Norflex and Dexameth given for? Are there any bad side effects?

A—Norflex is given to relieve tension spasms in the voluntary muscles and Dexameth is a cortisone-like drug used for arthritis and other inflammatory diseases. The side effects of Norflex include dryness of the mouth, palpitation, blurred vision, nausea, drowsiness and headache. Those of Dexameth include moonface, growth of hair on the face, acne, peptic ulcer, insomnia and weakening of the bones of the spine.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—What kind of tree produces the perfect resonance of a fine violin?

A—The silver fir of Europe is used for the top of the instrument; European sycamore is used for the back.

Q—In astronomy, what does magnitude mean?

A—Magnitude is the measure of the brightness of a star or of any luminous body in the heavens.

There is absolutely no truth to the story that in 35 years of married life Mary Zita Jacoby has never played a hand at three no-trump with her husband as dummy. We know of several occasions, but we must admit that, like many husbands, Oswald Jacoby has a tendency to play most of the no-trump contracts.

His two-club response to Mary Zita's opening diamond bid was eminently correct. When you have a good hand, respond in your longest suit to prepare for a possible slam contract. His second bid of three no-trump is open to question. It would have been far more scientific to bid two spades, but that would have wasted one round of bidding and might have led to a no-trump contract by Mrs. Jacoby.

The plays shows how an expert goes after that overtrick. We aren't going to speculate on what would have happened if the defense had thought of attacking the diamond suit at some early stage of the play.

The first spade was won by the queen. There was no reason to false-card with the king, since East could be sure his partner did not hold the queen but would be in doubt about the king. A low club produced dummy's queen and East's ace. A second spade was won in dummy. A club was led and the 10 finessed. Then South played king and another club, while West signaled by playing the five and then the four of hearts. East returned a heart to his partner's king. At this point, South was sure of nine tricks—three spades, three clubs, two hearts and a diamond—but he managed to make all the rest of the tricks for a total of 10.

It didn't require anything fancy. West led a third spade. South won, led a heart to dummy's queen, came back to his ace and played his last club. West was down to two spades and the king-jack of diamonds. He had to unguard his king of diamonds to protect the spades, and the 10th trick went to dummy's nine of diamonds.

Now More Than Ever

Thanksgiving

By DAVID POLING

Thanksgiving is no longer a nostalgic commemoration of precolonial America. We are beyond the needs of turkey, pilgrims tracking through the snow and puzzled Indians invited to a three-day feast. We are in the contemporary bind that cries out for assistance and direction if we are to be delivered from the pit of contemporary despair and cynicism.

Thanksgiving is that tonic, the remedy for much of our malaise, the genuine hope for days filled with purpose and meaning.

In this moment of such continuing conflict in Southeast Asia, added to the struggle in our cities and topped by the raw fury of so much of our entertainment, we long for some healthy escapes. Creative alternatives. Not karate clubs or glue sniffing or sky diving, or impeaching Earl Warren.

What is called for is a better feeling for life, an attitude that gives quick applause to a Russian touchdown on Venus and can feel happy about a White House wedding, even at a distance.

Thanksgiving emerges as a life-affirming force, an encouragement to seize achievement out of adversity, to find hope when surrounded with horror, to claim the power of love when the headlines are in a hate dance.

Thanksgiving is rooted in life and it belongs to those who have believed that God's love and will is eternally made known to men in personal and moving ways.

Struggling for 22 months to produce "The Subject Was Roses," Frank Gilroy had high moments and low before winning the Pulitzer Prize for drama. As success neared he wrote in his diary, "I realized even as these good feelings flooded me, that I would know many equally dark moments before this venture was over . . . I sang as I drove."

Thanksgiving, to be valid and active, is not confined to the precincts of religious centers or shrines. It breaks loose wherever people are expressing the meaning of life.

One thinks of the tireless Quaker diplomat, Clarence Pickett, who often was the only non-Communist at the Russian embassy parties in Washington in the turbulent '50s. Why did he go into the midst of this charged atmosphere of hate and suspicion?

"I was looking to the time," he said, "when we might have normal relations . . . when there would be people going back and forth between our two countries."

He was affirming life, and thankful for it even in the surroundings of bad news and broken promises between nations.

Sargent Shriver tells of his visit to an elderly man in a Chicago hospital ward. The patient was totally confined and absolutely dependent on the care of others. Yet he wanted to tell Shriver how thankful he was for "that young nurse's aide who feeds me every day, who surrounds my bedside with her happy spirit. She keeps me alive!" Thanksgiving, for him, was the dependable and joyous attention of a Negro teenager who cared for older people.

Thanksgiving is more than a tonic for tired blood. It is the sign of being alive and responsive to the generous aspects of creation. Yogi Berra, athlete and sometime philosopher, said to the well-wishers at Yankee Stadium: "I want to thank everyone who made this day necessary."

Thanksgiving defies even its own special season. For as Abraham Heschel has said, "To live is holy." To be thankful is the greatest creed of all.

Democrat Pickups

On Armistice Day a woman whose vision is bad got out the American flag and put it up. The family knew she had done this but hadn't looked at the flag.

In the afternoon a man rang the doorbell and when the woman's sister came to the door he asked her about the flag.

"It is upside down" he told her, "and I wondered if something was wrong. The flying of the flag upside down means help is needed. I wondered if it was put up that way unintentionally or if you needed help. If you need help I wanted to offer my services."

The woman looked at the flag and noted, for the first time, it was upside down. Then she explained about her sister's eyes, and thanked the man for his kindness.

It gave her a warm feeling that a stranger was concerned enough with the well-being of his fellowman that he would take time to stop and inquire at a home where he thought there might possibly be a need of assistance.—H. L.

To Present 'Cyrano' In Church Sanctuary

"...and tonight when I enter before God, one thing shall be without stain, unspotted from the world, and that is... my white plume."

PLAYING Roxanne, Cyrano's secret love in the Inspiration Players' production of "Cyrano de Bergerac," will be Claudia Lauren.

This famous death speech of Cyrano de Bergerac, climaxes a life of self sacrifice, of ridicule, yet colored with excitement, humor, beauty and poetry. Cyrano, burdened with the longest nose in classic literature, rises above ridicule and vanity by declaring, "I carry my adornments on my soul."

The Inspiration Players, a professional touring repertory company, will present the Edmond Rostand classic comic-tragedy in the sanctuary of Calvary Episcopal Church on Tuesday, Nov. 28. Curtain is 8 p.m.

The Players who have made it their personal inspiration to return drama at its best to houses of worship, are comprised of professional actors who have dedicated a portion of their careers to this end. They perform their plays in the chancel, without sets and few props, asking the audience not only to accept secular drama, but to utilize their imagination in providing the settings. The only physical theatrical device relied upon is the colorful costumes.

The actors are asked to employ their experience to the greatest degree, for there are more characters in the play than there are performers. Some of the actors portray two or three roles, which is challenging to actor and audience alike.

"Cyrano" has been specifically adapted for the sanctuary. The running time of the play is approximately one hour and 15 minutes. Tickets cost $1.50, for further information contact Calvary Episcopal Church.

Lack Data On Safety Of the 'Pill'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Temple University scientist said today at least 20 years of extensive research is needed before doctors prescribe use of the controversial birth control pill "without some reservations as to safety."

Dr. Michael B. Shimkin, who spent 25 years as a cancer researcher for the U.S. Public Health Service, explained: "There is now no evidence that the pill is harmful, but there is also no evidence of its complete safety."

Shimkin spoke at a science writers' seminar at Temple University Health Sciences Center.

The Temple medical school professor said the pill contains estrogen, a female hormone, which has produced breast cancer and leukemia in mice.

"This does not mean it will produce breast cancer in women," he said, "but does indicate the need for more research before anyone is foolhardy enough to recommend its use without reservations."

Challenging Shimkin was Dr. Robert B. Greenblatt of the Greenblatt said hormones do not cause cancer and he suggested use of birth control pills even for women in their early 40s, generally a short time before the menopause.

He said in these cases, the pill would do double duty—relieve the women of the fear of pregnancy during "that period when she fears it most" and prevent the onset of some of the problems connected with the menopause.

For Raiders

Oakland, Kansas City In Key Pro Encounter

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Oakland limps into Kansas City Thursday for a key American Football League game. And limps is the perfect word for the Raiders' condition.

Oakland, hanging on to a tenuous one-half game lead in the AFL's Western Division, will have to go the rest of the way without ace running back Clem Daniels, who broke his ankle in last Sunday's 31-17 victory over Miami.

Daniels, who became the AFL's first 5,000-yard career rusher earlier this season, is the league's fourth leading ground gainer with 575 yards.

His was the most serious of three ankle injuries the Raiders suffered against the Dolphins. Linebacker Bill Laskey and running back Estes Banks were also hurt and are considered doubtful for the game against the Chiefs.

In other professional football action on Thanksgiving Day, Denver plays at San Diego in the American League while Los Angeles is at Detroit and St. Louis at Dallas in the National League.

On Sunday, Boston plays at Houston and Buffalo visits Miami in the AFL. In the NFL Sunday, Philadelphia is at New York, Cleveland hosts Washington, Minnesota goes to Pittsburgh, New Orleans entertains Atlanta, Green Bay is at Chicago and Baltimore travels to San Francisco.

The Raiders plan to use Pete Banaszak, who has carried the ball just nine times in two seasons, to replace Daniels.

Banaszak gained 25 yards in two attempts after Daniels was hurt against the Dolphins.

Curt Merz, nursing a sore back, and Willie Mitchell, with a dislocated thumb, are doubtful for the Chiefs, 6-4, who must win if they hope to return to the Super Bowl.

The Raiders, 8-1, have won five straight but have been unable to shake San Diego, 7-1-1. The Chargers nipped the Chiefs 17-16 last week, with two magnificent goal line stands turning the tide.

John Hadl, San Diego's quarterback, had his first sub-200 yard day this season against the Chargers but Dick Post made up for the passing slack by gaining 108 yards rushing.

Denver, 2-9, ended a nine-game losing streak with a 21-20 victory over Buffalo last week. Al Denson led the attack by catching seven passes for 102 yards.

Los Angeles, 7-1-2, still hoping to catch unbeaten Baltimore in the NFL's Coastal Division, broke open a tight game with three touchdowns and a field goal in the final quarter and whipped Atlanta 31-3 last week.

Detroit, which hasn't won in three weeks, took a 41-7 pounding from the Colts but showed a good rushing game with 170 yards gained along the ground. It will be tougher for Mel Farr and the other Lion runners against the Rams' strong front four. The Lions are 3-5-2.

Dallas, 7-3, holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Capitol Division and was whipped by Washington 27-20 last Sunday. Craig

Morton led a late rally that fell short, hurling two touchdown passes after taking over for Don Meredith in the fourth period. St. Louis, 5-4-1, dropped one-half game back of Cleveland in the Century Division by losing to Chicago 30-3. Jim Hart had five of his passes intercepted by the Bears.

Offense, Defense Tested

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

What happens when the Big Eight's best offensive football team meets the league's best defensive team?

The answer will come Thanksgiving Day at Lincoln, Neb., when Oklahoma, the league leader in rushing at 230.1 yards a game, total offense at 362.5 and scoring at 25.6, runs into Nebraska, the national leader in total defense at 147 yards a game and No. 3 nationally in rushing at 61.2.

The nationally-televized duel will be one of the most interesting of the year, with the Orange Bowl-bound OU club seeking to wrap up an undisputed crown.

A little bit of the statistical luster was rubbed off, however, by Missouri and Kansas, who will collide for the 75th time Saturday, this time at Lawrence.

Mizzou out-defensed Nebraska, out-rushing the Huskers 140 to 11, lowest figure in Bob Devaney's six-year career in Lincoln. Kansas, meanwhile, held Oklahoma to a scant 100 yards rushing, dropping OU from 4th to 8th nationally.

In defense against scoring, Big Eight clubs rank 1-2-3 in the nation, Oklahoma giving up 5.0 points a game, Mizzou 6.6, Nebraska 6.9. Missouri is No. 2 nationally in total defense at 170.8 and No. 7 in rushing defense at 71.2.

In pass defense, nationally, the league is 2-3-4 with Oklahoma State giving up 83.8, Nebraska 85.8 and Oklahoma 88.5 yards a game.

Missouri is second in the league in rushing offense at 203.8. The passing lead is shared by Kansas and Nebras-

Gremlins Rally For 46-32 Win

The Sacred Heart Gremlins basketball "A" and "B" teams and girl's volleyball team, enjoyed a triple win, Tuesday night when they defeated the Green Ridge teams.

The Varsity of "A" team took their contest in basketball 46-32. The "B" team had a narrow escape in the final quarter of their game when the whistle blew ending the contest as Green Ridge was on a scoring spree, but they won 50 to 49. The girls won the volleyball contest 25 to 21.

The Varsity leading off in the opening quarter led 12-8 but the second stanza saw the Grems drop behind as Green Ridge came through with a 13 point period against eight to lead at halftime 21-20. The third period saw the locals move out in front never to be threatened again scoring 16 points in the third quarter and 10 in the final period, while Green Ridge was able to only pickup nine in the third and two in the final.

Brown was high pointer for the Gremlins with 15 and Dove for Green Ridge with 12.

Sacred Heart scoring: Gerke 2-0-4; Emo 3-1-7; Tray 6-0-12; Brown 7-1-15; Boss 1-0-2; Wanserski 2-0-4; and Hogan 0-1-1 total 46. For Green Ridge it was Ream 2-0-4; Ray 4-0-8; Knoerschild 2-0-4; Dove 5-2-12; Crawford 1-0-2; and Richardson 1-0-2 total 32.

In the "B" game the teams knotted the first period score with nine each and in the second Sacred Heart moved ahead scoring 13 to 10 for a halftime lead of 22-19. In the third period Sacred Heart added five more points to their edge scoring 16 to 11; but in the final stanza Green Ridge poured on the coal and put a 19 point scoring spree on the board while Sacred Heart was only able to collect 12, the game ending with the one-point edge of 50-49.

Joe Heer was high for Sacred Heart with 17 points and Brown for Green Ridge with 12.

In the volleyball tilt won by the "Lady" Gremlins 25-21, Mickey McGrath of Sacred Heart and Howard of Green Ridge divided scoring honors each collecting six points.

The next game for Sacred Heart will be Friday night on the local court when the Gremlins are slated against Mercy Academy of Marshall.

Thrills From Tag Team Event

The eight-man tag team event on the wrestling card of Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, proved a thriller for the ringsiders Tuesday night. The team composed of Ronnie Reed, Ronnie Etchison, Sonny Myers and Earl Maynard, took two straight falls from the "rough house" team of Bob Brown, Jack Donovan, The Hangman and Bob Hamby.

The tag-team event was preceded by four one-fall matches in which Myers, Reed, Etchison all won while Maynard went to a draw.

In the first match Myers won over Hamby in 10 minutes and 57 seconds using a body slam and press.

Maynard and The Hangman went the full 15 minutes to a draw in their match.

Etchison in his match with Donovan battled for 14 minutes and 38 seconds before he pinned Donovan to the mat for the victory.

Bob Brown came into the ring with a vicious thought in mind to finish off Ronnie Reed in a big hurry. As the bell sounded Brown was across the ring, had Reed down in the corner kicking him, when Reed, sent a hefty haymaker into the mid section of Brown whipped him off the ropes and made a quick neck twist, pinned Brown to the mat and it was all over in one minute and 45 seconds.

The feature resulted almost in a wink of the eye.

The feature event was involving everyone from the referee to the contestants. The match progressed 15 minutes and 10 seconds when Reed came through the air using a flying mare on Hamby and won the fall. In the second fall period, after Myers had been beaten down by the "bad guys" Maynard was fairly well slapped around when he suddenly grabbed Brown and threw him against the ropes, then Maynard was reversed in the act and as he went bouncing through the air from the ropes he came up with the flying scissors around Browns neck and sent him crashing to the floor with a press following and it was Maynards fall in eight minutes and 15 seconds.

Neither fall period ended before all contestants had their "filing" in the ring.

Eight More Deer Reported Killed

Hunters bagged eight deer around the Knob Noster State Park Tuesday for a four-day total of 118 so far this season.

Mrs. E. O. Price, Knob Noster, shot a 150-pound buck in the Knob Noster area Tuesday.

Wednesday will be the last day of the either-sex deer season. Following an eight day break, there will be a three-day season for bucks only.

Hoople Says Yale Will Win 'The Game,' Moon Over Miami to Shine on the Irish

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Originator of the Turkey Trot

Egad, friends, some people are hard to please.

I was awakened very early Sunday morning by a telegram from a Southern California supporter, who was unhappy because the Hoople System missed by two points when USC defeated UCLA by a 21-20 score after we had forecast a Trojan triumph, 22-21.

I'll wager he's one of the students who protest when they have classes before noon or when the dormitory cafeteria serves T-bone steaks three nights in a row—um-kumph!

Enough for lads of his type! C'est la guerre!

"The Game," dear readers, yes, "The Game," as it is known to generations of Yale and Harvard adherents, will be played this week at Yale Bowl when the Elis and Harvard lads meet for the 84th time. This is the game the Old Blue and Crimson stalwarts start practicing for every August—kaff-kaiff!

With Yale's Brian Dowling running, passing, blocking and carrying the water bucket when otherwise unemployed, it will be a banner day for my alma mater—Boola-Boola! How I could have used that Dowling boy to spell me off in my undergraduate days, the attack always sputtered out when I was forced to the sidelines for a short respite—har-rumph! The final score, Yale 33, Harvard 13!

The Old Boy Himself

In the top Turkey Day treat, Oklahoma will prevail over Nebraska in a slam bang affair, 18-16.

The Notre Dame-Hurricane meeting under the Miami moon on Friday has caused the Hoople System no end of concern. After a laborious review of all pertinent data on these two fine teams, we foresee an Irish triumph, 28-22!

With all-winning Wyoming (10-0) concluding their season last weekend, North Texas State (7-0-1) is the only undefeated major eleven left in the field. But, alas, I have sad news for the Eagles in their fray with Memphis State on Saturday. I predict a Memphis State victory, 21-14!

Longhorns Aggies Are Set

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry, almost as traditional in Texas as Thanksgiving, is extra appetizing this year with the Longhorns and Aggies also trying to carve up each other for the Southwest Conference title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

The game at College Station, home of the Aggies, shares the feature billing on Thursday's college football schedule with the Oklahoma game at Nebraska where the Sooners try to wrap up the Big Eight crown.

Elsewhere, Villanova plays at Toledo and Virginia Tech and VMI clash at Roanoke.

Texas has dominated the series that started back in 1894, winning 51 times and losing 17 with five ties. The Longhorns have won the last 10 times.

This year, the game rates about even and a victory by the Aggies would give them a 6-1 SWC record, the title and a date against Alabama in Dallas Jan. 1. A Texas victory would deadlock the two at 5-2 and open the way for a possible four-way tie should Texas Tech beat Arkansas Saturday and TCU whip Rice Saturday and SMU Dec. 2.

The loser is likely to get an invitation to the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 23 in Houston, although Texas Coach Darrell Royal has said his team would not consider a bowl bid if the Longhorns, now 6-3, finish at 6-4.

Colorado, still with an outside chance to tie Oklahoma for the Big Eight championship, accepted a bid to the Bluebonnet Monday.

Oklahoma, fifth ranked in the nation with a 7-1 record, needs a victory over Nebraska or Oklahoma State Dec. 2 to win the crown. The Sooners already have accepted an Orange Bowl bid against Tennessee.

In the "B" team game the Colts also won by a score of 39 to 23.

Smithton took both the A and B games from Cole Camp at Smithton Tuesday night.

In the A game Smithton walked away with 72 points to Cole Camp's 50.

The B game finished with Smithton scoring 41 points to Cole Camp's 32. High point man for Smithton was Taylor with 15 for Smithton and Hampton scored 13 for Cole Camp.

Georgia Tech Saturday, took an invitation Tuesday night to play in the Liberty Bowl with Syracuse, UCLA's opponent Saturday, a rumored opponent.

Florida and Florida State play Saturday for a Gator Bowl bid against Penn State, which finishes against Pittsburgh. Minnesota can win a trip to the Rose Bowl by beating Wisconsin or if Indiana loses to Purdue.

Four Hunters Die In Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four hunters have died in accidental shootings during the current Missouri deer season which ends today. It will reopen Dec. 1 for three days.

Two fatalities were reported Tuesday, one Saturday and another Sunday.

Joseph Francis Hannon Jr., 16, and William Davis, about 25, were Tuesday's victims.

The Hannon boy died when his father shot at a moving object after they became separated while hunting south of New Cambria. Davis was killed when struck by a charge from a shotgun as he and a friend got ready to go on a hunt near Williamsville.

Tuesday's deer kill was 1,963, bringing the four-day total to 19,181.

Glue Stain on Fabric Gives Her a Problem

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I sincerely hope some of the ingenious readers can help me make a new chair look new. When it was delivered from the store, an identifying tag was attached to the arm. When this was removed, the glue from the tag left a dark spot on the fabric and all efforts to remove the stain have been in vain. I really need some advice.—IRENE

DEAR IRENE—Rather than work on this spot yourself you should have called the store from which the chair was purchased and let the responsibility of removing it be theirs. No doubt the chair would have been replaced. Even though you have tampered with it, I still suggest that you call and explain the circumstances. Some clever reader will, doubtless, come forth with an idea to help, too.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I have to wear an elastic bandage around my leg in addition to support hose and I discovered that the bandage is less conspicuous if I fasten the end with transparent tape instead of using the metal clips that come with the bandage.—MRS. W. A. B.

DEAR POLLY—and Mrs. J. T.—I do a lot of embroidery and have had entries at our Fair. First, never tie a knot in the floss to begin the work. Leave a half-inch or so of floss loose on the back to be caught up under the first few stitches as they are pulled up, and the end will be covered. When the end in the needle gets short, weave the needle back under several finished stitches, pull needle out and clip any remaining end.

Keep the stitches accurate, small and neat. Do not use too many strands of floss or the work will appear heavy. Gauge the floss by the weight of the material. Pull stitches up close but not too tight. If doing crewel embroidery do not pull too tight as yarn has some spring in it and should not look stretched.

Blend colors rather than place two unharmonizing colors together. When finished, the underside of the work should look as near like the top side as possible. This helps in the pressing, too, as all embroidery work should be pressed on the wrong side over a well-padded surface. And, last, have patience.—LEAH

Uncertain Weekend

Injuries Play Role In Games

NEW YORK (AP) — Because the four Thanksgiving Day games the old hand-picker is making a stab earlier this week about a full rundown on all injuries.

Tucker Frederickson and Jim Moran of the New York Giants and Ray Perkins of Baltimore are lost for the year and so is Tom Daniels of Oakland.

The crystal ball calls for up to wins by the Chicago Bears over Green Bay, Washington over Cleveland and Minnesota over Pittsburgh.

An 8-4 Sunday left the season totals at 80-30-9 (52-21-7 in the NFL and 28-9-2 in the AFL) with the end in sight. Let's take another try:

Thursday's Games

NFL

Los Angeles 17, Detroit 10 — Lions always are tough in that Turkey Day special at home when they start salary drive. But Rams are shooting for the title with a four-game win streak. Last road game for Los Angeles. Detroit pass defense tough but Dick Bass and Les Josephson should roll.

Dallas 21, St. Louis 20 — Who can figure these two clubs? Both are going backwards but Cowboys should win on defense. Jim Bakken could pull it out for Cards if Don Meredith's flipper still is sore. Look for Cards to go to Charley Johnson if Jim Hart runs into interception trouble again.

AFL

San Diego 35, Denver 17 — Chargers coming off super effort against Kansas City may suffer letdown but they are at home and did beat Broncos 38-21 earlier. Denver sky high after snapping nine-game losing streak in Buffalo.

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 — A real toughie. We were ready to take Raiders until Daniels was hurt. Chiefs really must be smarting with that Super Bowl dough going down the drain. Raiders beat Chiefs 23-21 at Oakland Oct. 1.

Sunday's Games

New Orleans 21, Atlanta 14 — Like a game between the A's and Mets. Two newest expansion clubs both have leaky defense, poor pass blocking and ineffective pass rush. Gary Cuozzo should make Al Hirt blow sweet music for Saints' last home game.

Baltimore 31, San Francisco 14 — Some one of these days 49ers are going to wake up and beat somebody but they haven't beaten John Unitas and friends in nine straight since 1962, including 41-6 romp Oct. 1. Colts lose Perkins, get back Raymond Berry.

Chicago 14, Green Bay 13 — A real defensive war. Packers just did beat Bears 13-10 Sept. 24 with Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts healthy. Bart Starr racked up last Sunday and also Lee Roy Caffey. Jack Concannon bringing Chicago's feeble offense to life.

Minnesota 20, Pittsburgh 14. — Fred Cox's field goals win it for the Vikings in match of two punchless clubs. In a game like this go along with the underdog.

Philadelphia 35, New York 31 — And it could be 49-48. Loss of Frederickson blow to Giants. Both teams hurting in defensive backfield and Eagles will be without Gary Ballman, Bob Brown and Mike Ditka. Just the spot for a big day by Timmy Brown. Eagles still have outside chance of catching Cowboys. Giants still hoping at 5-5. Only meeting this year.

Washington 28, Cleveland 24 — Sonny Jurgensen dealing hot hand and Redskins giving him great protection plus big pass rush. Leroy Kelly will run on Skins, who haven't beaten Cleveland in eight straight since 1962. Welcome home Otto Graham.

Houston 21, Boston 17 — Keep your fingers crossed on this one. Oilers have no punch but Pats easy to score on. Don Trull will be out to show up old Oiler mates. Houston still has a shot in East and Boston is out of it. Pats won first meeting 18-7.

Buffalo 21, Miami 14 — First of four in a row on road for Bills, who are finished at home. Bob Griese threw scare into Oakland last week and could upset Bills if they come to enjoy the sunshine. Buffalo won easily 35-13 three weeks ago.

‘Returns’ Best For Hinton

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — “I feel like I'm on cloud nine when I'm running back punts,” says Eddie Hinton, swift wingback of Oklahoma's Orange Bowl team. “It's a feeling of authority—like I got all those people by the hand and when I move, they move.”

Hinton led the nation with a 29.1 punt runback average last year, including a 63-yard touchdown against Oregon and a 93-yard TD against Colorado.

Why hasn't he broken a punt return TD this year? “They're watching out for me this year,” Hinton replied. “Last season I was a sophomore unknown and I caught 'em by surprise. But I'm going to keep trying and one of these days somebody's going to make that little mistake and I'll be off.”

The 6-foot-1, 200-pound junior from Lawton, Okla., had the biggest game of his rookie season against Nebraska, OU's Thanksgiving Day opponent on national television at Lincoln, Neb. Oklahoma spoiled Nebraska's bid for a 10-0 regular season that day, 10-9, and Hinton scored on a 48-yard pass play for a 7-3 OU lead.

“I remember the opening kickoff,” Hinton said. “I went 59 yards and just one man stopped me from scoring. The pass was a big thrill, catching it over an All-American safety like Larry Wacholtz.”

“He was cheating on me—coming in close,” Hinton said. “So I fled deeper and caught him by surprise. He had to reach farther than I did and he fell down. Then it was smooth sailing.”

Hinton likes horseback riding and shooting snooker. He's a sharp dresser, mostly in blue, and he likes to wear jumper suits with his white loafers.

“I've been riding horses ever since junior high,” he said. “My friends and me used to save our allowances all week so we could go riding” for an hour on Saturday morning. It cost a dollar, so we never had any left for candy or ice cream.

“Just like in football, good riders have to have balance,” he said. “Why do I like it? I like to show off and sometimes I get ahead of a stubborn stud that likes to show off, too. That's when it gets kinda exciting. A friend of mine back home lets me ride. I like to make ‘em jump fences and ditches and cut this way and that.”

Kelly Near 100 Club This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — With four games to go, Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns appears a cinch to crack the 1,000-yard club for the second straight year.

Kelly, the leading rusher in the National Football League and an odds on choice to succeed Gale Sayers as the league rushing champ, has gained 871 yards in 168 carries, an average of 5.2 yards.

Johnny Roland of St. Louis is a distant second with 707 yards and a 3.8-yard average. Sayers ranks No. 12 on the list with only 482 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen of Washington pulled into a tie for the passing lead with John Unitas of Baltimore with an exceptional effort against the Dallas Cowboys. The passers are rated on an involved basis that includes percentage of completions, touchdowns, percentage of interceptions and average gain.
